POWERCOLOR ANNOUNCES THE POWERFUL GAMING CARDS: HD5700 SERIES

The Latest DirectX® 11 card of choice for the performance gamer

Taipei, Taiwan –October 13th, 2009 -- TUL Corporation, a leading manufacturer of AMD graphics cards, today releases the latest gaming video cards: the HD5700 series. Designed for demanding DirectX® 11 games at HD resolutions and high settings, PowerColor HD5700 series offers the intense gaming performance and unrivaled image quality.

PowerColor HD5700 series supports ATI's exclusive Eyefinity Technology, with dual DL-DVI / HDMI / Display Port onboard design, it can run up to three displays from a single card and let all gamers enjoy the "wrap-around" gaming experience like never before. Also, the latest HD5700 series is compatible with ATI Stream technology, enables demanding data parallel compute tasks from the CPU to GPU, accelerate the daily application and do more with your PC.

The latest series includes HD5770 and PCS HD5750. The HD5770 has 800 stream processors, clocks in at 850MHz core speed and 1200MHz of memory speed; easily boot up your gaming performance with 1.36 teraFLOPs of computing power. The PCS HD5750, clocks at 700MHz core and 1150MHz memory, equipped with Arctic Cooling fan solution, helping to deliver the perfect heat dissipation in a low-noisy operating environment, allowing a better user experience.

"After the successful launch of HD5800 series, AMD and PowerColor soon release another performance gaming cards, HD5700 series, to all gamers;" says Ted Chen, CEO of TUL Corporation. "With the aggressive price segment, we believe HD5700 series will be the best choice for those gamers who are looking for the great balance of performance and price!"
